

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force it's stations to show an anti-Kerry film close to the election will put a dark cloud over this election and over our democracy in general.

As a democrat I would love to have seen a documentary like Fahrenheit 9/11 broadcast on national television the day before the election, but I also recognize the inequality of such an act. For all the "truth" I see in his film, I realize that it is simply the film producer's perspective. There are other voices that should be heard.

If monied interests are allowed to monopolize the message in America and dissent becomes treasonous then we have no democracy. and we will have no strength.
